Did He Run?

3.

A run to the White House occurred last year,
 There were two great men in the race.
 To be President each declared,
 He would win with ease and grace, grace, grace.
 They trained each day on a platform that
 Would eliminate ev'ry graft,
 Mr. Bryan said, I'll come in ahead,
 Theres too much weight on Taft.

CHORUS.

Did he run?_ did he run?
 Up an alley ran Taft which made Bryan cry,
 The alley was so narrow that he couldn't pass by.
 Did he run?_ did he run?
 He ran to Lincoln where he'll start to train,
 For in four more years he will run again.

4.

A ball game was played at the polo grounds,
 In nineteen hundred and eight,
 'Tween the Giants' and Cubs one day
 And it sealed the Giants' fate, fate, fate.
 They had the game in their hands allright
 With a man on first and third,
 Then an hit brought in the tally to win
 But Giants' brain was blurred.

CHORUS.

Did he run?_ did he run?
 Did he run to second as he should that day
 Or did this Mr. Giant semi-circle away
 Did he run?_ did he run?
 A play-wright grabbed his ink and quill
 And wrote a play called "The Man That Stood Still."

5.

A milkman once owned a very fast horse
 That he drove around every day,
 To deliyer his milk he would
 Speed the horse along the way, way, way.
 He entered him in a stake race
 Down at Sheepshead for a purse,
 Then the milkman bet all that he could get,
 His horse would come in first.

CHORUS.

Did he run?_ did he run?
 He started off at a very fast gait,
 Just like a two year old that didn't carry any weight.
 Did he run? did he run?
 He was ahead four lengths until
 Some one yelled "milk," then the horse stood still.

"HONEYSUCKLE" is the most beautiful and melodious inspiration that has emanated from the prolific pen of Albert Von Tilzer.

"Honeysuckle" possesses the captivative qualities that makes the pianist play it and makes the listener want to hear it again and again.

Whether played by a large or small orchestra, whether played by a band or on the piano, "Honeysuckle" asserts itself as the most charming composition now before the public. Will also be published as a song.
